NEW YORK, SATURDAY, JUNE 23, 1888.

THE FIFTH DAY AT CHICAGO. How the Convention Looks, and What It Is Doing To-Day.

ISPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD. CHICAGO, June 23.—The delegates cordially dislike the early morning sessions, and on this close, stuffy morning they come into the convention slowly and late.

At 10 o'clock, the hour for assembling, not one-fifth of them were on hand, and those who were looked particularly tired and

There had been late and exciting caucuses in most of the delegations and sleep had been a luxury that few had enjoyed.

The galleries were jammed beyond their capacity, just as they were yesterday, and worse, the reckless policy of issuing tickets right and left having gone on unchecked.

There is every prospect of another blustering day in and out of the convention.

Only half a dozen New Yorkers were in their seats at 10 o'clock, Judge Robertson the most punctual among them all. They had very little to say about the action of the delegation to-day, but intimated it was to be as outlined last night.

The general expectation was that to-day would see a mighty struggle and some big changes.

would see a mighty struggle and some big changes.

The talk is that the contest has narrowed down to Allison, Alger and Harrison, with the latterperhaps in the lead.

The Allison and Alger men were both very confident, claiming beavy gains from the burs'ed Gresham boom and from the weaken-ing Sherman forces.

DEPEW AND HIS PAN.

They asserted that they would have sixty votes solidly from Pennsylvania before the day was out, and that Nebraska and Minnesota had come to their rescue.

The talk among the delegates in the hall about adjournment was not very encouraging to those who are getting impatient to be home. The general opinion was that to finish the business to-day was out of the question. Very many said that even Monday would see no adjournment, and at least one session Tuesday would be necessary. One expressed a belief that a nomination would be reached to-day.

o-day, Senator Hiscock and B. G. Horr, of Michisenator Hiscock and B. G. Horr, of Michigan, had a close conference on the floor before the convention came to order.

Col. Ingersoli's usual seat on the platform was vacant this morning.

Mr. Depew was a quarter of an hour late, but he got a good round of applause when he did come in.

to come to order. He shook hands cordially with Mr. Depew, and so did many others. Chairman Estee had taken the chair at first but his voice was too husky and uncertain, and when he called Senator Warner Miller, of New York, to take his place, there wa he rty applause.

Mr. Miller pounded the desk with sledge-beamer blows, and succeeded in getting prayer which attracted attention, were his netition for the President of the United States, which has not hitherto figured in the appeals to the throne of grace, and his eloquent reference to Gen. Sheridan.

After the prayer Warner Miller, acting Chairman, motioned to the band for music and it struck up "America."

The fourth ballot was then ordered, and "Hush! Hush!" came from the galleries.

Alabama led off. She gave I for Depew, 7 for Alger, 2 for Harrison and 10 for Sherman yesterday. She to-day responded with Sherman S, Alger 10, Harrison I. One absent.

Arkansas stuck to Alger, and the Californians continued to plank down 16 saucy Blaine votes.

Colorado did not make much of a break. Gresham lost 2 votes.

Gresham also lost 2 votes from Connecticut, and they went in the Allison column.

Mokinley, of Onio, a talked-of dark horse, arose from among the Ohio delegates and stood on a chair. He had received a vote from Connecticut. He made a manly speech, asying he was for John Sherman, and that Ohio came to the convention pledged to him.

"I cannot, with my personal sense of integrity," he shouted, "allow my name to be placed before this convention as a candidate for President. I do request, I do demand, that no delegates who does not wish to cast a reflection upon me will cast a further ballot for me." (Great applause.)

Florida balloted a large majority for Sherman. There was a break on Illinois. Three delegates ran away from Gresham and enlisted under the Harrison banner.

Indiana was solid for Harrison, Kansas joined the Blaine chorus with five votes and divided up the remainder of her votes among leaders.

Kentucky gave one vote for Foraker and one for Fred Douglass, amid yells and laughter. Blaine got a few votes, Gresham lost two and Harrison scooped in a gain of two.

Gresham got a small gain from Louisiana. Sherman received a majority of the votes of Massachusetts is all mixed up. Harrison pockets four more votes from the Bay State than he obtained yesterday. Sherman loses three in place of four votes, and Allison received a recruit.

Pennsylvania, one of the combination States against Harrison, sent in fifty-three for Sherman and seven for Harrison—a gain of two for Harrison.

Texas deserted Gresham to the tune of two votes. Allison gained two. The rest divided between Sherman and others, Vermont hoisted the Harrison flag.

Virginia divided, as usual. Mahone stuck to Sherman, and Wise fights under Harrison. Scattering votes for Allison and Alger.

Sherman loses votes from West Virginia, Harrison gains. Blaine receives votes and two delegates voted for McKinley, notwithstanding his speech.

Wisconsin makes a break and goes fiving to Harrison. The Hoosier gains twenty votes by the change, Gresham gets two votes. The Territorial votes went scattering in all directions. The District of Columbia was for the Plumed Knight, as usual.

The result shows that in comparison with the third ballot Gresham lost 25 votes Sherman 9 votes, While Alger gained 13. Allison polled the same vote. Blane went up 7 votes and Harrison increased his figures by 123 votes.

The fifth ballot was immediately under

The fifth ballot was immediately under way. It showed a loss of nine votes for Sherman and a loss of nine for Gresham. Harrison went down four points Blaine shot up six votes and reached forty-eight. Allison tallied eleven more votes, and Alger creeped from 135 to 142. McKinley was voted for by fourteen delegates, three more than in the fourth ballot.

A motion to take a recess till 4 o'clock was at once made. A call of States was asked for on it, but before the list had been more than half called a majority had voted for the motion. The friends of all the candidates motion. The friends of all the candidates seemed to want a chance to talk things over. The motion was carried.

THEY COMBINED AGAINST HARRISON. But the Friends of the Other Candidates Did Not Agree on Any One.

[SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.] CHICAGO, June 23.-Three days ago the friends of Depew, Harrison, Alger, Gresham and Allison were afraid of John Sherman's strength and were ready to combine at any time to prevent his nomination. The combination has now shifted, and it is organized against Harrison. It is a mighty strong combination, too. It includes Ohio, Pennsyl vania, Iowa, Illinois, Michigan, Maine and the Pacific coast States, and is backed by the supporters of Sherman, Biaine, Allison, Alger and Greaham.

This anti-Harrison combination was agreed ipon at 2 o'clock this morning. Among those taking part were Police Commissione French, of New York, who represented the anti-Harrison people of the New York delegation; Edward D. Hayden, of Massachu setts; Samuel Fessenden, of Connecticut; setts; Samuel Fessenden, of Connecticut; Senator Aldrich, of Rhode Island; Congressman McKinley and Butterworth, Green B. Raum, Gen. Powell Clayton, of Arkansas; M. H. De Young, of California; Henry O. Wolcott and William A. Hamill, of Colorado; Senator Farwell, of Illinois; John S. Clarkson and Congressman Henderson, of Iowa; John S. Wise, of Virginia; Col. Hecker, of Michigan; Senator Hale, of Maine; Senator Jones, of Nevada; ex-Gov. Foster, of Ohio; John R. Lynch, of Mississipi; John M. Thurston, of Nabraska; Senator Quey, of Pennsylvania, N. W. Cuney, of Texas.

THE BLAINE MEN PAYORED ALLISON. The claims of all the candidates were advo-cated by their respective friends. It was not the intention to agree on any one, and it was evident that such a result could not be achieved. Mr. Allison was highly spoken of by nearly all the representatives of what might properly be termed the Blaine element in the convention. Clarkson, of Iowa: Hayden, of Massachusetts: Cuney, of Texas; Fessenden, of Connecticut, and others insisted that he was the most available man. Senator Farwell, Lynch, of Missis-sippi, and one or two others declared that Judge Gresham could be nominated, and be elected too, because he would unite the The claims of all the candidates were adve

Mr. McKinley, being bound to Sherman, was not at liberty to act further than to do all he could to prevent a stampede. No attempt was made to consolidate all the forces upon any one candidate.

SHERMAN HAD NOT GIVEN UP HOPE. Senator Sherman had telegraphed his friends during the afternoon that they must stand by him, and the friends of the other candidates felt under similar obligations to the gentlemen they have been supporting. It would have been impossible therefore to have combined on any one man, and if the supporters of any of the candidates went into the meeting hoping that their friend would be selected for the support of all, the hope was soon dispelled. was soon dispelled.

defeated first, and the other candidates take their chances of success after that. The conference to be held after adjournment to-day may have something to do with candidates. During the meeting this morning the statements Patrick Ford had been making about Harrison and the Irish vote of New York were repeated. They were to the effect that Harrison's Know-Nothing record had been investigated, and that it would be certain to alienate the whole Irish vote of New York, which was now drifting towards the Republicans.

This will probably stagger some of the New Yorkers who have been talking about his ability to carry New York. Taken along with the Chinese record on the Pacific Coast, it may be a significant factor.

The eleven Gresham men in the Minnesota delegation will not desert their favorite. They consider Judge Gresham's chances as good as ever and declare their intention of standing by him to the end. The supporters of the other candidates do not consider Judge Gresham a feeting in the convention. Gresham a factor in the convention.

Col. Ingersoll's speech hast night injured what chances Gresham had. The Colonel was invited to address the convention, and he turned his speech into a Gresham speech. The friends of the other candidates charge Col. Ingersoll with abusing the privilege granted him.

THE BLAINE FEELING GROWS STRONGER, THE BLAINE FEELING GROWS STRONGER.
All day long and last night the figure of Blaine became more and more apparent.
There is no longer any doubt that there is still a plot to nominate the Plumed Knight.
The "Blaine or Busters" are beginning to show their hands in a more open and aboveboard manner. There is now hidden away in the cellar of Convention Hall a new, huge floral picture of James G. Blaine.
The Californians have appointed a committee of fifty to carry it into the convention at a given signal.

at a given signal. HE THREW OUT A BLAINE EMBLEM.

HE THREW OUT A BLAINE EMBLEM.

The Californians are mad. Creed Haymond told why in a stump speech last night. It was full of threats, condemnation and vigorous English.

He said that a damnable outrage had been percetrated on the Californians and they had been insulted by a servant of the convention. The women of St. Louis had sent to the delegation a superb floral wreath as a token of their admiration for the stand taken to give to the people the only man who would win the next election. Having in their possession a first portrait of Blaine, the two were combined, and flowers had been placed around the picture of the grandest man in the Republican party.

The delegation had been accused ever since its arrival of a desire to stampede the convention for Blaine, and so far from this being its desire, when the portrait and its flowery frame were carried to the hall, they were placed in an antercoom and covered up, so that they might cause no annoyance to the members of the convention who had other men to boom. But the picture was found by the Sergeant-at-Arms and by him thrown out of the building.

The Californians are not alone in their condemnation of Sergeant-at-Arms Fitzsimmons. A more open and flagrant abuse of power than he has shown has rarely been seen. He has, with the assistance of the ushers and police, passed in hundreds and hundreds of people not entitled to admission, and crowded them on the platform and in the galleries.

It was evenly charged that this was done.

It was openly charged that this was done in the interests of Gresham. He has also crowded the poor space allotted to the press with his friends.

It is said in Convention Hall to-day that in the conference of anti-Harrison men last evening it was the general opinion that a evening it was the general opinion that a combination could be made on Congressman McKinley, of Ohio. The sentiment was largely in favor of uniting upon him, if upon any one, and Mr. Root, of Arkansas, was talked of as the man to give the signal for the stampede for McKinley.

Mr. McKinley protested against such action, but when the conference ended this morning it looked very much as if McKinley might after all be a Garfield. There is no doubt that McKinley is looming up.

In the matter of cooling breezes the Ser reant is undoubtedly peculiarly favored, and that may be a reason why his predictions for the past twenty-four hours have been so optimistic. The bodies of both men were removed to the Morgue.

Two more cases were reported early this morning. They were Albert Kuhn, aged forty-five, of 107 Essex street, and Jose Cot, found dead at 29 Oak street.

found dead at 29 Oak street.

Assistant Coroner O'Meagher said that while the deaths in which heat is the direct cause are very numerous, those in which it is only a contributory cause are much more so. The mortality among very young children, in particular, is very great.

STREET CAR HORSES SUFFER. Up to 11 a. M., the surface railroads reported that they had not lost any horses, though they expected great mortality if the intense heat and humidity continued much louger.

All of the roads have numerous relays along their lines, and the greatest care is taken to save the lives of their stock. IN THE TENEMENTS.

The sudden hot spell is playing havoc in the tenement-bouse districts, and is sending the death rate relatively as high as the mercury goes in the thermometer.

There were 144 deaths on Wednesday, 28 of which are due to the warm weather.

The average daily rate of mortality in the city during the week has been 125, fully on sixth being directly traceable to the heat. Yesterday there were fifteen cases of sur stroke reported, six of which proved fatal.

ILLS BORNE ON THE HOT WAVE. The effect of the continuous heat on The effect of the continuous heat on the general health of the city, according to Dr. Edson and Dr. Nagle, who are veteran observers, is a steady increase in diarrhoral complaints and a tendency to scarlet fever, diphtheria and typhoid fever. They are on the wane, just at present, while cholera inantum, congestion and inflammation of the bowels and convulsions are on the increase. In the Bureau of Vital Statistics it is said that suchaes is orayalent in those sections of that sickness is prevalent in those sections of the city where the people herd like cattle. The lack of proper ventiation and proper food make the children of the poor ready victims to the decomposition of the milk and other hourishments, and they sicken and die.

other hoursaments, and they sicken and die.

"Infants brought up on the bottle suffer most," said Dr. Edsons. "The tenement-house inmates cannot afford to buy ice to keep milk cool, and the decomposition creates untold misery and consequent sickness and death. The summer corps of physicians make daily visits to the big tenements and do the best they can to save the children, but until overcrowding is done away with, and ventilation, air and sweet food are furnished, the little mounds in the gravevards will increase. It is a serious problem which health experts all over the world are trying to solve,"

THERMOMETRIC POINTS.

The following are the indications of Blakely's thermometer from 3 A. M. to-day to 11 o'clock:
3 A.M., 82 degrees; 6 A.M.; 80; 9 A.M., 86.
This is a raise of ten points over last year's record for the time.
At 11 o'clock it was 93½ degrees by Blakely's and 89½ by Hudnut's weather instruments.
